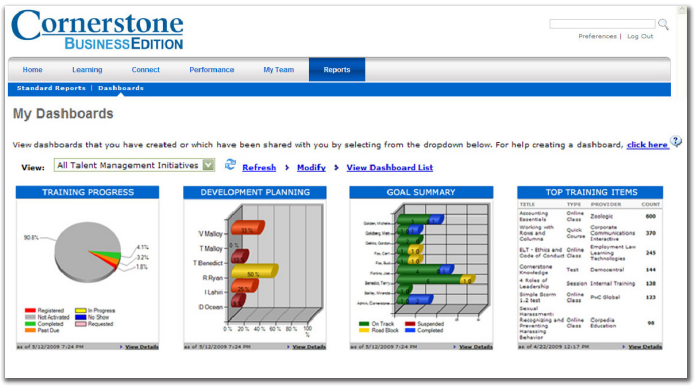
Analytics & Reporting
with Business Edition

Transforming Data into Information. Employee learning and performance management processes generate a lot of data that often goes underleveraged. Cornerstone Analytics makes these processes useful to HR practitioners, senior leadership, and line managers by transforming data into meaningful, actionable information.

Cornerstone Analytics ties into the learning, performance, and enterprise social networking initiatives you are deploying with Cornerstone Business Edition. Access reports and dashboards 24x7, securely, and from any connected computer and push meaningful information to your senior leadership and line managers. Good business intelligence drives good decisions at all levels.



Cornerstone Business Edition is completely web-based and delivered securely as software-as-a-service. This means rapid implementation, instantaneous upgrades, and no IT headaches.

Cornerstone's product is specifically streamlined for fast deployment, ease of administration, and rapid organizational adoption, resulting in quicker return on investment (ROI). In today's business climate, justifying your investment has never been more important.
