Investing and trading in a foreign market can be a high-risk / high-reward pursuit. The International Risk & Payment Review puts you in the best possible position to reduce that risk by keeping you informed of the latest developments across the globe.

The International Risk & Payment Review (IRPR) is an online resource that provides the critical economic, political and commercial information needed to facilitate decision-making when trading in multiple countries around the world.

Displayed in an easy-to-follow format, the IRPR presents country-level intelligence on numerous markets to provide insight into cross-border and key global trends.

HOW DOES THE IRPR HELP YOU?

Whether you are involved in foreign trade, financial risk analysis or supply chain management, understanding the ever-changing commercial risks is crucial for effective risk mitigation and decision making. Updated frequently, the IRPR allows you to confidently evaluate your global risk exposure and predict ongoing developments by providing insight on over 130 countries in a concise fashion.

The data, analysis and forecasts are combined with D&B's Country Risk Rating, which facilitates the comparison of business conditions across countries around the globe, meaning you can fulfil all your country assessment requirements from a single expert source.

The IRPR is compiled by a team of highly skilled analysts using exclusive data from Dun & Bradstreet's global network of reporting offices and worldwide database of over 240 million company records. This information is supplemented by primary data from national and international sources, and secondary data from the International Monetary Fund, World Bank and other multilateral organisations to allow our team to provide a unique perspective when producing our reports.
