Market to a qualified database:

As a sponsor, you'll receive a webinar report detailing all interaction and interests of highly qualified prospects. This report includes full contact information of all registrants and attendees, a summary of post event survey responses, answers to webinar polling questions and detailed Q&A from webinar attendees - so you'll know what issues are top of mind. In addition to this prime list of future clients, you'll also receive data revealing which attendees are interested in your supporting documents, so you can cultivate these targeted leads after the event.

Job Functions Reached:

Academics, analysts, brokers, engineers, executive and senior management, finance, government agencies, legislators, marketers, operations, professional services, purchasers, traders and many other key decision makers
